Statement of Policies

Privacy - All of your information is confidential, including simply your association or involvement with us. We will never store, share or discuss any of your information with any outside party without your explicit authorization. Further, we will not acknowledge that you are now or have ever been a student with us, even if we have mutual contacts or we see each other in public. We will not engage you in conversation nor acknowledge that we even know you in front of other people until you initiate the conversation.

Disclaimer - The information provided on our website, social media accounts, any educational course or meeting, and any related materials is intended for general informational purposes only. Such content does not constitute any form of professional advice and should not be considered a substitute for seeking professional guidance. Any use of such content is at your own risk. You should consult with the relevant professionals for specific advice related to your situation. We make no representation or warranty, neither expressed nor implied, regarding the availability, completeness, accuracy or reliability of such content and we do not guarantee any specific results or outcomes based on any use thereof. We may add, modify or remove any such content without notice. It is solely your responsibility to stay informed of any changes. Please note that we can send information and resources ONLY to the email address acknowledged below.

Limit of Liability - By using our website or social media account, participating in any educational course or meeting, or accepting, sharing or using any related materials in any manner, you thereby acknowledge the above Disclaimer and agree to indemnify and hold harmless The Bona Vias Foundation and any of its agents from any claims, damages, losses or liabilities arising from your use of such content.

Procedure - Although we may provide information and related materials meant to help you to act on your own behalf to achieve certain academic, financial, professional or legal objectives, we will only provide such support that is already publicly available to anyone through relevant public sources. With any of our materials or document templates, we recommend that you first complete and/or modify them to your satisfaction and then consult an appropriate professional to review and modify them as advised before final execution. You may be able to take advantage of a free initial consultation offered by many attorneys.
